

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

This invention provides a method for producing a polarizing film, comprising: a dyeing step and a stretching step, a plurality of films being dipped into at least one processing liquid without contacting each other.

Best Available Copy